For those who aspire to apply to other universities, our students have gone on to study at institutions such as LSE, Durham, KCL, Warwick as well as at prestigious universities in the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada and the USA. As such, the IFP is recognized by many universities worldwide, giving students different pathways to progress.

This is also the only UoL foundation programme taught by top lecturers face to face in Hong Kong. Not only is this a more economically favorable option (students save about 30-50% of expenses compared to a year of studying abroad), but they can also focus on studying in a familiar environment at the comfort of their hometown. This is especially important for those who see the UoL IFP as a second chance to retake and progress to their university of desire. The energy and time spent adjusting to a new living and study environment can be channeled towards maximizing their potential on the programme.
