Academic Advisory Ongoing Guidance

ARCH Education Center (Central) offers Academic Advisory Ongoing Guidance (AAOG) service to parents and students in Hong Kong. Our aim is to partner with parents to prepare effective study plans by providing tailored advice and to monitor both the students' learning progress and the delivery by our tutors. Our academic advisors regularly meet with the parents to strategise and develop workable study plans whilst our tutors develop expert materials focused on boosting and developing the required skills for students to excel in school and public exams.

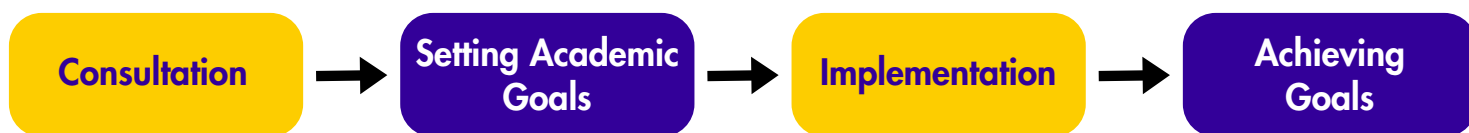

Mission Statement

Our advisors and tutors are dedicated to creating an atmosphere that fosters success. We are committed to quality academic advising and ongoing guidance in an environment that is welcoming, inclusive and supportive. Our programs and services are designed to help parents and students develop decision-making and study skills that will empower them to take full advantage of the education experience.

Together, we assist students with their academic pursuits and advancement.
